I am currently a part owner and manager of an IT consultancy, RASA Consulting, that is focused on web application development, database development, data analysis and web design.

Our company is based in Australia, however we are set up to work remotely which provides our clients and us with flexibility and cost-effectiveness. We are currently working out of Wanaka, New Zealand.

Prior to starting RASA Consulting with my partner, I have enjoyed working in a variety of business sectors. I have a passion for learning new technologies, business processes and tackling problems.
